THE CONSOLIDATION BILL.

After prolonged delays which almost exhausted the public patience the Hacienda Committee of the Senate has despatched what is termed the Consolidation Bill for the payment of the debt due by the Nat. Government to the Provincial Bank. It is indeed to be regretted that in a question so simple so much valuable time should be lost. People have gone to Europe and come back since the project was first sent by the Government to the Deputies, and now at the eleventh hour, when it comes before the Senate for final approval, it brings with it a split report from the Committee, two of whose members favoured the measure, whilst a third proposes a new scheme which will take us all back over the ground we have travelled, and in all probability postpone the question of simply paying off the Bank until next year.

The danger to be feared from this prolonged legislation is that the Provincial Bank will be unable to control the gold market, being deprived of those bonds which the Government proposed to pay to it. The Bank at present is fighting the gold market by means of exchange operations; these transactions are based upon the negotiation of the bonds issued under the new Provincial Loan Law. It is worthy of remark that other countries where forced currency exists or has existed, have never attempted the resumption of specie payments by mere exchange operations, and a financial experiment is now being tried on this market which, with the co-operation of the Nat. Govern ment, had good chances of success, but if Congress close without passing the Government Consolidation Law, the result may be unfavourable both to the bank and to the market.

The dream of nationalizing the Provincial Bank was fully discussed by the Committee and finally rejected, and the report which we give at foot, signed by the majority of the Committee, as also the proposed amended law introduced by Dr Pelligrini, will explain to our readers both the present stage of the question and the increased firmness of the gold market.

The following are the documents:

Hon. Sir,

The Finance Committee have closely examined the project of Law, as amended by the Chamber of Deputies, authorising the emission of $f16,000,000 in Public Bonds to pay the debt due to the Provincial Bank of Buenos Ayres and definitely amortize the 10,000,000 pats. emitted for account of the Nation, and for the reasons which the informing member will lay before you, have the honour to recommend that the Bill, as sanctioned by the Chamber of Deputies, be approved.

Jose N. Baltore, Victor C. Lucero.

Dissenting—C. Pellegrini.

Senate Committee Rooms,
B. Aires, Aug 5th.

Senator Pellegrini presented the following project of Law.

Art. 1. The Executive shall emit 24,000,000 hard dollars in Treasury Bills of 6 per cent interest and 1 per cent accumulative amortization by drawings at par, with liberty to increase the amortization fund at any time.

Art. 2. These Treasury Bills or the proceeds of them shall be devoted to paying the following debts:—

1st. Debt due to Provincial Bank previous to the contract of September 1876.

2nd. Amortization of the notes issued under said contract.

3rd. Amortization of the Treasury Bills issued to pay for National Bank shares.

4th. Amortization of Treasury Bills created by Law of 19th Oct. 1876.

Art. 3. The Executive can amortize the above debts and negotiate the Treasury Bills created by this Law in whatever way it deems best.

Art. 4. Let this be communicated.

TREASURY BILL PROJECT.

President Avellaneda's words to his countrymen on the opening of Congress a few years ago, when he adverted to the hardships and penury Argentines had suffered and were willing to suffer rather than suspend the payment on the foreign debt, come very fresh to us on the reading of Senator Ortiz's bill to compel the holders of our 9 p. cent Treasury Bills to exchange them for 6 p. cents. The measure is so indefensible that we cannot even plead poverty as an excuse, since it must be admitted that the country to-day is much better able to pay 9 p. cent interest than in the year 1876.

Mr Ortiz has neither right nor justice, nor law, nor equity on his side, yet he has proposed a measure which, if sanctioned, would irretrievably injure our credit abroad, and hurry the Government into a purchase of these Treasury Bills at par, which at the slightest turn in the London money market may before long be purchased at a discount.

The Government is in the position of a party who mortgages his property for a certain number of years at a high rate of interest, and who beause money cheapens in the market seeks to break the mortgage and compel the mortgagee to accept a much lower rate of interest, years before the mortgage expires.

Of course, if such were possible, all our laws of contract are at an end, and all our jurisprudence useless. By the terms of the law creating these Treasury Bills a certain sum every quarter was to be applied towards their amortization, and whether the Government pays that sum to parties bidding for the amortization or holds it apart, allowing the amounts to accumulate in the absence of amortization bids, the object is the same, and this is the only honorable interpretation that this question will admit of.

The Treasury Bills coustitute a public debt maturing in a certain number of years: supposing that every quarter the amortization took place, the debt would only be paid off in 25 years, which is the term the Goverument must wait to call up the Treasury Bills and pay them off at par; but will any sensible man say that in 25 years, with such wondrous events occurring both in Europe and America, opportunities will not arise when these Treasury notes that to-day are at 20 p. cent premium will not be selling as they were last year at 30 p. cent discount. Mr Ortiz anticipates too much, and even supposing that the law allowed the Government to buy up all this stock at par, the policy of such a step is most questionable, since so many changing years have to run before they legitimately mature.

But we want a man in Congress to stand up and defend the credit of the Argentine Republic; some one who will go back over the history of the country for the last ten years and show all we have done to pay our way. The splendid credit which the country enjoys abroad is the reward of all our efforts in the long years of crisis, and yet all this is to be imperilled by a Saltena Senator, who has discovered a short way out of a long debt. Repudiation is not the term to be applied to this measure; doubtless some honorable Senators, when the Bill comes up for discussion, will employ the proper adjective.

THE "MEMORIA DE HACIENDA."

The following figures of the Finance Minister's report will be found most interesting, as they refer to the most vital point in the prospects of the country. The subjoined table expresses the amounts paid by the National Government since 1875 to maintain colonies—

Chubut	236, 78.57
Santa Cruz	115, 82.45
Resistencia	169,563.40
Villa Libertad	71,843.77
San Xavier	29,507.14
Gen. Alvear	170,196.46
Sampacho	65,708.55
Caroya	78,318.88
Formosa	67,316.79
Pres. Avellaneda	131,613.78
Private Colonies—
Iriondo	128, 99.32
Olavarria	148, 82.20
Rodriguez	1,600.—
Parana	4,200.—
Calvari Contract	61,930.—
Various	19,616.34
Various	64,120.43
Total	$f.998,677.09

These figures give one for the present an idea of the outlay of colonies, but more statistical data are urgently required.

Approximate calculations show that the Government has spent since the year 1869 to 1880 the sum of $2,504,190 in colonization and immigration purposes; there is no doubt that the sums in reality spent are much larger. More accurate figures can be obtained respecting the outlay of the Government in fomenting immigration—

1864	$ 2,050
1865	15,000
1865	14,846
1867	15,000
1868	22,225.24
1869	24,648.32
1870	70,789.50
1871	52,516.74
1872	66,064.66
1873	159,250
1874	177,305.20
1875	231,699.40
1876	223,461.03
1877	321,124
1878	379,839.16
1879	499,613.68
1880	521,209.62
Total	$2,796,424.55

It is necessary to foment immigration, but only such as brings us hardy, industrious and honest men, accustomed to hard work. An indiscriminate outlay would only lead to a vicious current of immigration. Statistics up to the present give no details as to the class of emigrants that land in the country, and care should be taken to avoid the introduction of sickly or deformed individuals.

Most of the money spent on colonization has gone towards keeping the present colonies in existence, whether in Buenos Aires, Cordoba or Santa Fe, etc. The colonies have not been financially profitable to the nation, and nearly all are still heavily in debt, owing to the advances made to the colonists.

As long as the Government cannot afford larger outlays it should limit its liberality to fomenting immigration, distributing free passages over the Republic and starting colonies in the National territories, and not in the several provinces, where they are under local jurisdiction and local taxation.

It has more than once been asserted, not so much in Buenos Ayres as in England, that the Argentine National Government railways were lines across barren territories, without any termini, and without any hope of ever paying the expenses of working. Here in Buenos Ayres the extensions of the Andine and Central Northern Railways were opposed under the above-mentioned pretext and urgent representations were made that, in view of the signal failure of the actual National railways, the Government should wait until the population of the Interior would increase on a larger scale.

When in 1876 the Government was constructing the Tucuman Railway, this paper was one of the very few supporters of that great enterprise: all will remember the opposition made in that year: the arguments advanced obeyed the old narrow-sighted routine, and all condemned the Government, the engineer and the railway. Mr Cortinez's ably written 'Memoria de Hacienda' is a conclusive argument, and his figures will convince many of their folly in opposing every new railway enterprise or extension in the Interior. We, for our part, verily believe, that there are many people who still cling to the agreeable conviction that the Tucuman Railway has been a failure, that the sleepers are rotten, and, in fact, Tucuman is a mud ranch with no trade in produce to support the line.

There is a saying that to doubt is to be wise, and this may account for so many wise people doubting the success of any scheme. But error is a human failing all suffer from, and the subjoined figures of the Hacienda report will show at a glance the brittle foundations of some opposing parties and the secure basis of most of the National railways.

On the Central-Northern Railway or Tucuman line, on which, according to the numerous reports, nobody can travel, as both bridges and sleepers were in danger of being washed away in any storm, we now see a most prosperous traffic, which will be doubled as soon as the line reaches Jujuy and the Bolivian frontier. The following are the returns for 1880:—

	$fts.
Returns	644,187 05
Expenses	262,080
Net profit	382,107 05

As regards the Andine Railway, its prospects were also supposed to be pretty hazy: and, in fact, the territory the line passes through was not of a nature to lead one to entertain very bright hopes. The line is now being rapidly extended to San Luis, a very poor province, but its ultimate terminus in Mendoza and San Juan will develop the great wealth of the Cuyo provinces: the latter assersion is not a mere rhetorical expression, but the opinion of all those who have had an opportunity of studying the physical conditions of both those provinces: aside from the prolific nature of the soil and the advantages of the temperate zone, there is a considerable mineral wealth of gold, copper, silver, quicksilver, &c. The Andine Railway, in our opinion, will be a more successful enterprise than the Central Northern, in spite of its small returns for 1880, which are, nevertheless, proportionate to its extension. The following are the figures for 1880:—

	$fts.
Returns	158,450 11
Expenses	96,182 36
Net profit	62,267 75

If the Tucuman and the Andine railways are enterprises which redound to the credit of the Argentine Government, no words can express the discouraging impression one receives when reading the results of that most unfortunate of railway enterprises, the too well-known Primer-Entre-Riano. One might suppose that a province that has cost the treasury of the Nation over 3 millions sterling in rebellions and interventions, could at least afford to make a Government railway a paying one, if only for the sake of decorum. Here we have a railway line that yields yearly £548 stg., taking five paper patacons to the pound. The very insignificance of the figure is enough to persuade the Argentine Government to take up the rails and remove the rolling stock, if only for the sake of escaping ridicule. The Primer Entre-Riano should be made a present to the Entre Rios Government, in exchange for an abolition of all local taxes on hides and cattle. In order to quote facts we reproduce the figures of this railway for 1880—

Returns	$f.2,742 15
Expenses	12,000
Net loss	$f.9,257 85

This is certainly a railway 'en miniature,' and what with bad management, local disturbances and high expenses, the Primer Entre-Riano is far from answering the expectations which were entertained when confiding bondholders rocked the cradle of its prospects. The Primer Entre-Riano can only pay under one condition, and that is its immediate extension through more populated and prosperous camps. Herewith we close the chapter on National Railways, which has proved a surprise to many, but as yet does not answer the sanguine expectations harbored by the few.

THE WATER BOARD.

As summer approaches, and we have reason to apprehend a repetition of the heat experienced in Europe, it is time to ask Dr. Wilde and his water board what steps have been taken to give the city a full supply of water?

The present water supply, even in the winter months, is felt to be scanty enough, and in the hot summer months the population will necessarily need a larger supply. We all remember last summer, when the city population was less than now, what straits the people were put to to have a bath once a day in their own houses, many persons having to wait till night for the water, and it is high time now, before the great heat of the summer sets in, to ask the water board why on earth they do not set the great engines and pumps at work and make every preparation to supply us with water.

We trust Dr. Wilde, the President of the Board, will, if his committee is deficient of jurisdiction, apply to the National Government and the Municipality on the matter. We understand that Dr. Wilde has, ever since he took office, laboured to get the large engines and pumps set at work, but that the objection is that in the present deficient state of our sewerage it would be dangerous to increase the present water supply; but the Municipality can easily remove this objection by giving householders permission to let the water from the baths in the houses flow into the street, which would prove not only a convenience to the householders but also to the public, since it would be a cheap means of watering our broiling streets.

The large pumping engines of the water board are now up, and, we suppose, ready to work for years past. This machinery has cost millions, and is at present eating its own head off, since the committee must necessarily be under very heavy expense in the way of salaries to engineers and others to care it; yet for years it stands idle, whilst the town is growing so fast that the original water works which, even excellent in their way, are now insufficient to supply the town.

The only objection that we have heard to the working of these large engines is the danger which a too copious supply of water would be to the city until means are afforded to carry it off. But all this is fudge; the Municipality should publish a decree allowing all people who have baths in their houses to let the water run into the streets. Bath water is not offensive, not soap suds, nor can it be considered dangerous to the health of the town to water our streets by the bath water from the houses.

We call the attention of Dr. Wilde and his water board to this all-important matter, and at the next meeting of the Municipality the affair will be taken up.

FUNERAL OF MISS JACKSON

Yesterday, a few moments before that Angel of Charity Helen Jackson breathed her last, she received Extreme Unction from the hands of Monsignor Yeregui. Two hours before she died the patient was delirious. Her brothers were beside her bed at the supreme moment. When her spirit winged its flight to the Almighty, her body was placed in the coffin and a 'chappelle ardente' was arranged round it. Two priests then recited the Office for the Dead. The most distinguished members of Montevidean society thronged the house.

The funeral cortege left the paternal mansion of the deceased lady, in Calle 25 de Mayo, this morning at 9 o'clock, proceeding through Calles Uruguay, Ibecuy, Agraciado and the Suarez Road to the Jackson quinta, Atahualpa. The hearse was surmounted by beautiful white plumes, while over sixty wreaths of natural flowers hung from every part of the vehicle and were heaped inside; the horses were covered with long black cloths. After the hearse came the coach with the chief mourners, and after it 265 carriages, private and hackney, carrying over 1000 persons. In the sad cortege were to be seen members of the Government, Legislature, and Diplomatic Body, of the Catholic Club, and all the religious associations: also all the parish priests of the city and over 40 clergymen of all the congregations here. There were also many Sisters of Charity, Dominicans and several others. The relatives, accompanied by Monsignor Inocencio Yeregui, Bishop of Canope 'in partibus infidelium,' the Vicar General and all the clergy of the Chapter, headedthe procession. The coffin was of rosewood, almost totally devoid of ornament.

An enormous crowd of the poorer classes, mostly women, lined the avenues of the quinta; others flocked to the Central Cemetery, under the erroneous impression that the interment was to take place there. All were weeping bitterly, more than if they were relatives of the deceased: their tears were those of gratitude to the Angel of Good who was returning to their common mother, Earth, after a brief stay amongst them, and the infinite realms of the Creator are now the abode of her pure spirit.

When the cortege reached the gate of the quinta, opposite which stands the Jackson Chapel, a superb Gothic structure, all the poor female children of the asylum maintained by the Jackson family at its sole cost, and where these little ones receive shelter, food, clothes and education, were found drawn up in double files. This asylum was the creation and special care of the gentle being who has passed away so young. The sight of that vast and silent crowd was most touching. The poor little orphans wept and sobbed from the very depth of their hearts: the bitter tears left traces even on their young faces. Well might they weep! Their tender mother was dead. The angel whose delight it was to help and cherish them was gone for ever. Yet her spirit floated over them: the beloved lost one can never be forgotten by them; she is lost to mortal sight, but not to that of the soul. Poor, innocent orphan children! Their tears affected the bystanders deeply. Noble hearts can never be indifferent to the sufferings of their fellow beings. This was the case with the noble and virtuous Helen Jackson. Even men wept at the sobs of those little orphan girls. But they are not left destitute. While a single member of the Jackson family lives they will be cared for, clothed and fed as they have been up to the present.

The coffin was then borne to the centre chapel: six Sisters of Mary walked besides the remains so sacred to them. The coffin was placed on a catafalque with lighted candles round it. The sacred edifice was draped in black, with myriads of lights everywhere. Monsignor Yeregui celebrated the Mass for the Dead, and at its conclusion Dr. Soler delivered a most eloquent and impressive oration, although he was labouring under the most profound emotion. The rev. orator took for his text the words of Saint John the Evangelist—'Happy those who die in the grace of the Lord: their virtues follow them to the tomb and thence to the mansion of the Just.' At the conclusion of the oration the coffin was deposited in the family vault, which is at the foot of and behind the high altar. The remains of the parents, brother and nephews of the deceased lady are laid in the same vault, and over their funeral tablets flowers, watered by tears of grateful sorrow, will never cease to spring.

When all was over the immense concourse retired in the deepest silence, but the sobbing of the orphan girls still broke most painfully through the solemn hush. Two hours later we returned to the chapel and found over 100 wreaths of white camelias and violets laid on the tomb, while the elder orphan girls were on their knees round it praying. For two days the chapel will remain open to the public.

Father Musmela, to whom we are indebted for many data, recounted to us the intense pleasure which Miss Jackson used to experience and display whenever the orphans accompanied her in her walks through the quinta: they pulled flowers and made them into little bouquets for her, and she in return repaid them with smiles and kisses. Each of the orphans has placed a little bouquet on the coffin. We sincerely feel for the deep sorrow that has fallen on the Jackson family.—Ferro-Carril.

ROSARIO.

(From our own Correspondent.)

September 9th.

The grey-haired old town of Santa Fe de Vera Cruz is situated, as most Argentines (not all), know, on a tortuous narrow branch of the Parana, that leaves the parent stream without any particular motive, to sport an independent course of its own for a score or so leagues. This is what is called the Riachuelo, and is to be scene of the debut of the steam dredging machine lately brought out from England. I am afraid it will be labour lost. They will never be able to make a decent port of Santa Fe. The town appears to have been placed on purpose in the most inaccessible spot in that region. Possibly as a protection against the Indians. In front are the islands formed by the Riachuelo and this sluggish stream itself. To the north are the three streets of water called the Guadalupe Lake. To the west and south are the Salado river, the Riachuelo, and low lands and islands. Rivers and lakes are all liable to sudden inundations, and at times Santa Fe becomes an island itself. Communication betwe n the town and the Colonies, all situated on the Western side of the Salado, is at times completely cut off; and in fact intercourse between the torlorn old town and the busy colonial centres has always been very unsatisfactory. The peculiar sixteenth century atmosphere of Santa Fe has not been dissipated in the least by the proximity of five and twenty thousand foreign agriculturists. The same habits obtain; the same idiosyncracy of character that prevents the people from moving out of the old old groove. The aversion to all innovation, social, religious or political. The Municipality was a failure. It was a step towards modern civilization, and the community only want the ancient regime. The corporation was merged with the Executive Government, and the people breathed more freely. What is a Government for they ask if it does not liberate the citizens from the trouble of thinking or acting for themselves on administration affairs? With the exception of a considerable improvemnnt in what is called the port, Santa Fe does not appear to have benefitted morally or materially from the proximity of so many flourishing colonies. The great want of these colonies is an easy and economical outlet for their produce. The port of Santa Fe is a snare; and even should they succeed in building a railroad to the first line of colonies, I do not think it would be much used. The little port of Santo Tomé, a few leagues below the Capital, offers better shipping facilities, and Santa Fe will be gradually deserted entirely as a commercial point. What those huge clusters of wealthy and progressive colonies require is a railway that will place them in contact with the great business centre of Rosario It is useless to talk of railways from the colonies to Santa Fe or any point on the Parana in that region, for there are no available ports. From the junction of the Carcarana with the Parana, a few leagues above Rosario, up to the Bermejo, or still further North, there is not one decent port on the right bank of the great river, the channel of which is separated from the main land by a belt of bañados or low swampy lands, ranging from five to fifteen miles wide. Passengers travelling up and down the river never catch a glimps of the main land of the Province of Santa Fe until they approach Rosario, in the same way that below Diamante a belt of low islands fifteen or twenty miles across prevent them from seeing Entre Rios. It is evident that the Northern colonies and the Southern part of the Chaco must be connected by rail with Rosario to insure their future grandeur and development, and this should be done by running a central line from the Central Argentine, straight up North through that densly populated region and tapping the Gran Chaco in its progress towards Santiago del Estero.

Some time ago I said in one of my letters that the time would soon arrive when the Province of Santa Fe would export no more wheat. The last season has proved the truth of my prognostication. Very little wheat has left our ports. Almost all has been turned into flour in the great number of mills the province now possess. The colonies of Esperanza and San Carlos possess some of the finest flour mills in the country. In this department the Carcarana Mill, with unlimited water power, has all the most modern machinery at work and an elevator connected with the mill. The new mill at San Lorenzo, belonging to Mr. Bowmann, worked by steam, is a magnificent establishment. In fact, our many new flour mills possess all the modern appliances of science, to enable them to turn out the finest qualities of flour. The immediate consequence is that our wheat is all ground at home and sent to Buenos Aires in the shape of flour.

Prices are becoming weaker as it becomes more vulgarly known that stocks are large, and that they will carry us well over the three months wanting for the advent of the new crop. It is probable some parties will come to grief. Rings are nice things, particularly when one is placed on the third finger of a lovely bride; but commercial rings are sometimes anything but nice.

After ten days of cold rainy weather the sun is becoming vexed that he has been prevented by Santa Rosa from enjoying a perambulation round our Plaza, and has made a mighty effort to dissipate the clouds and has succeeded.

LUXURIOUS TRAVELLING.

To the Editor of the Standard.

Sir,

I was unwittingly spirited away to Rosario on Tuesday last, only to view such evidences of progress 'en route' and at my destination, as certainly surprised me.

In the preliminary railway journey to Campana, the carriages, comfortable, clean and springy, the well-laid steel-rails and the accompanying confiteria presided over by a diligent knight of the napkin, left nothing to be desired save an increase of speed which, perhaps, may not be practicable, as the line crosses an extensive spongy 'bañado,' a site for which our engineers seem to harbour some unaccountable 'penchant.' When once, however, on board the Trident, the monarch of the Parana, everything struck me with admiration, which the subsequent experience of three days only enhanced. To a noble, spacious, and richly-adorned saloon, roomy and comfortable cabins, are added very superior, noiseless and experienced service, abundant and well-cooked fare, and spotless snowy linen. At breakfast and dinner, San Juan and Mendoza wines completely usurped the place of Bordeaux and Priorato; people are now beginning to appreciare the difference between the pure juice of the grape and the filthy decoctions sold under the name of French and Spanish vintages, which dry the palate and instead of making glad the heart of man sour at once his stomach and temper.

The saloon at dinner time, and indeed far into the night, was one intensely white blaze of illumination issuing from three large pendant solar globes of electric light, whose supply of frictional fluid, generated by the ship engines, brought forth as by sunray, all the colours of the gay mouldings, totally invisible by the usual kerosene lamps, rendering, to my amazement, shadows somewhat different from the ordinary optical, by reason of loss of sharpness and distortion, and revealing much incipient baldness on pates which the less cruel and less inquisitive customary lacernals clothe with abundant locks. Each cabin too has its electric bell, which adds to the comfort of those little smuggeries.

The captain, 'comisarios' and stewards vie with each other in attention to the passengers, and the result of the whole well-planned and scrupulously executed service, combined with the arrangements, speed, safety and skilful management of the vessel, and the regulations by which through tickets may be obtained and luggage booked to the interior without oversight on the owner's part, stamps this 'Argentine Lloyd' route with all the luxury travelling is capable of, a luxury indeed foreign to that of either the Thames or Mersey. The Trident is in fact a floating hotel which offers, at a moderate cost, and with little loss of time, a very enjoyable trip, 'ida y vuelta,' to the second city of the Republic, allowing five hours in Rosario to inspect its industries, chief among which stand out prominently the wonderful works at the Central Argentine Railway Station, a well-ordered and busy hive of 300 souls, where for the first time in my life I beheld rows of artisans so intent upon their occupation as not to lift an eye on the appearance of strangers. On the northern limit of this extensive property stands the wheat elevator, erected at such extraordinary cost; and not far distant to the west may be discovered the modest steeple of the pretty little Gothic Anglican church, with its flourishing school, which, pushing energetically its democratic Christianity into regions where hitherto it has been much of a stranger, opens wide its portals alike to native and foreigner and blends both into an overlasting brotherhood. The worthy and active Minister, the Rev. Mr. Lett, pointed out the beauties of the structure, which have been admired not alone by me, but by the President of the Republic and many of the National Senators on their passage through Rosario; an organ, for which a niche is reserved, alone seems necessary to complete the internal fittings, and funds have already been subscribed for that purpose.

The business of the river appears centred in San Nicolas and Rosario; at the former, we were at least an hour discharging cargo, chiefly of the almacen type, with the aid of a steam winch, and at the latter the trade of the place is evidenced by the size and magnificence of its Custom House, which completely shames that of Buenos Aires; by the number of its well stocked shops, its banks and hotels, the bustling life in its streets, and the numerous vesels anchored off the port.

On our return journey I was gratified to witness the loading of three tons of lead in four-arroba ingots, the product of the San Juan mines, the mere spray from that mighty wave of mineral wealth, which hereafter, when interior traffic facilities have developed the ways and means, shall flow in torrents as volcanic lava, fresh from its sierra beds, into the holds of an endless flotilla of caracks crowding the deep inlet of this Argentine Genoa.

Buenos Aires, Sept. 9, 1881.

"EL CIUDADANO,"

This is the title of a new paper of which we have just received the 5th number. It is edited by Mr. Charles A. Davis and Dr. de la Fuente Ruiz, and from the tenor of its ably written leaders, it appears to be the especial organ of the General Brown Club. Mr. John Dillon, the worthy President of that Club, under date Aug. 26, 1881, writes to the Ciudadano, thanking them for their very able articles about the club, its aim, utility, and the want it is created to meet. It is really very remarkable that this Club, directed by men of such acknowledged ability, and whose members are chiefly recruited from the sons of foreigners in the Plate, should to the present make such little headway amongst us. That the Club meets a want, all who know anything of the political status of foreigners and their sons must admit. The editors of the Ciudadano, in a very well written article in the number before us, define that want and point to the indispensable necessity of such a club. We doubt not that with this new organ the General Brown Club will succeed in attracting more attention and gain a better status amongst us. Its President, Mr John Dillon, is a gentleman deservedly esteemed and respected by all; possibly its very neutral political banner may explain the public apathy towards it. Meanwhile we salute our new colleague, wishing it the best of success, and if good, clear writing can do anything in the way of pushing a paper, then we admit that the Archbishop of Dublin could not write a better leader than the article entitled 'Club General Brown' in the number before us.

MISCELLANEOUS

The Passionist Fathers' Mission at San Roque Church closed on Sunday. The congregation was so dense that many could not obtain entrance, and over fifty persons were accommodated behind the altar. The renewal of their baptismal vows by the whole congregation, each one holding a lighted candle, was one of the most striking and impressive scenes we have ever beheld Father Kent Stone preached a most eloquent sermon, which visibly affected all present, and he appeared to frequently labour under emotion himself during its delivery. The solemn Papal Benediction closed the week's ceremonies. The music was very good, and the excellent singing, especially of the 'Te-Deum laudamus,' was the subject of general remark.

Telegrams from Rosario say that the navvies on the Tucuman railway extension have struck owing to not being paid their wages in the proper coin. We have a late number of the Razon of Tucuman, which gives a different version of the affair.

We opened a 'dirty half hundred' exchanges from all corners of the Litoral and Interior yesterday. We rejoice to find that the Municipality of Rosario have found the Gas Inspector they were looking for, in the person of Mr Barberis. We also notice the marriage of Mr John Canal to Miss Ascension Dam. May they glide happily over the canal of life, and their prosperity never be dammed by sorrow or trouble. In Rioja they have gone in for 'Conciliacion,' so we are pretty certain to hear of a shindy up there before long. The Razon of Tucuman says they have been choked with dust up there lately.

The accounts from the Santa Fe wheat colonies are wonderful. Double last year's area sown, and buyers are already in the field for the coming crop.

Our English readers will feel deep regret this morning on perusing the announcement of the death, on Saturday last, in London, of Captain Hugh Mallet, late Her Majesty's Consul in this city. The sad event had for some time past been anticipated by his family and friends, nevertheless the certainty that the end has come will cause sincere regret to all who knew the deceased gentleman. He was but a short time here, but in that short time he made hosts of friends through his affable and winning manners and sterling qualities. The deceased Consul served his country in many capacities. He began life in the army, in a crack cavalry corps, the 4th Hussars, and was attached to the household of the late Earl of Carlisle when that popular nobleman was Lord Lieutenant of Ireland; subsequently he entered the Consular service and was some years in Panama, from whence he came here. It was while in Panama that he contracted the illness which caused him so much suffering and finally forced him home—to die in his native land. We offer his bereaved family our sincere condolence on the irreparable loss they have sustained,

The following news from the U. States may interest our insurance friends, and also the Continental Exhibition Commissioners who have, we believe, decided on lighting the building by Electricity:—

"The New York Board of Fire Underwriters has passed a resolution ordering that all buildings in which the electric light is used, or over or through which wires for lighting by electricity may pass, shall be rated as 'specially hazardous,' unless the wires are properly insulated and approved by the Inspectors of the Board.'

TESTIMONIALS.
From Mr. JOHN J. MAHON, Capilla del Señor, June 29, 1881.—The dip which you sent me I used according to directions, and I can assure you that it gave the desired result. During four years of practical experience of curing scab in sheep, I have seen many specifics used, and I consider Gilliard's the only one that gives complete satisfaction. It improves the quality and promotes the growth of the wool. For efficiency, economy and facility of application, I prefer it to any dip I have used.
From Mr. JAMES M. THOMAS, Estancia Santa Ines, Monte, June 29, 1881.—Having given a good trial to Gilliard's Dip, I have much pleasure in bearing my testimony to its valuable quality as a Sheep Dip. It destroys all insect life with which sheep are infected, mixes readily in cold water, does not injure the hands, and softens all hard parts. I shall strongly recommend it whenever an opportunity offers. As regards the cheapness, it should command a good sale.
"The market is being flooded with sheep dips, some of which are all that is claimed, and also by some which are worth little or nothing. Our readers will have noticed that several preparations have been mentioned in letters revived from the camp showing that there are several good preparations."—B.A. HERALD.
NOTE—A sample drum will be supplied gratis to any Estanciero who is willing to give the Dip a fair trial and report on same

Alcock's Porous Plasters.
Calle San Jose 755, Buenos Ayres, 4th Feb. 1881.
J. A. Bennet, Esq.
195 Florida,
Dear Sir,
I have great pleasure in testifying to the efficacy of Alcock's Porous Plasters.
In 1876 I was attacked by Acutn Rheumatism in this city, for which the three Doctors who attended me could do absolutely nothing.
After being in bed for 9 months, unable to move any of my limbs, I was advised by a friend to try Alcock's Porous Plasters. I did so, and in 15 days I was completely cured, returning to my work on the City of Buenos Aires Improvements for Mr J C Simpson.
This fact is known to hundreds of persons here. You are at perfect liberty to publish this, and I trust it will induce others similarly afflicted to try them; they are certain to be benefited by them.
I remain,
Very truly yours,
W. MURPHY.

REVIEW FOR EUROPE.

The debate in Congress on the Chilian Treaty has been postponed for twenty days at the request of the Chilian Government, and as the discussion in the Argentine Congress has been secret, the public is ignorant of the causes which led to the postponement, but it is generally believed that, notwithstanding the opposition both here and in Chile to the treaty, both Governments command, majorities and the treaty will be ratified by both countries.

The last news from the West Coast shows that the Peruvians under Pierola still hold out, and are likely to give the Chilians much trouble. Advices from Bolivia amount to little, and we hear nothing of any further preparations by the Bolivians to carry on the campaign. Chile, when she once concludes the treaty with the Argentine Republic and has no further care about the Patagonian question, will be in a better position to secure her new interests on the Pacific coast.

In a few days the Provincial Committee appointed to select a site for the future capital of Buenos Ayres will send in its report. It is generally believed that Ensenada will be the future capital, and this of course will prove very beneficial to the Ensenada Railway Company, which is an English enterprise: in the event of Ensenada being made the capital it is thought that this railway will be expropriated.

Since the sailing of the last packet we have had the most incessant rains, which at this season of the year are most opportune and a promise of a splendid harvest. In another month the shearing will begin, and the flocks have so much increased that 'barraqueros' estimate the clip will give 20,000 bales more than the last. All our advices from the colonies are most favourable, and if the locusts do no damage this year, we shall probably have an immense wheat crop.

Immigration, which showed such a great falling off is, we are happy to say, again improving. The National Government has just sent the engineers to survey the lands south of the Rio Negro; all these lands belong to the National Government, have not been sold, and the best and most adaptable are to be set apart for free farms for immigrant families.

Business in the city shows improvement, and the dull winter months are now nearly over. We have still a large quantity of last year's wool on hand, and the weather has been so severe that our export trade has been checked, it being almost impossible to get off the bales.

Great preparations are now going on for the exhibition to be held here next February, and we trust that home manufacturers and breeders of prize stock will, through their agents here, make timely application for space.

The premium on gold keeps very steady at about 2 per cent. The great speculation which we reported in our last as going on in National Bank shares has been somewhat checked, and the price of this stock, which rose so rapidly to 30 p. cent. premium, has fallen from 10 to 13 per cent.

We give in another column full particulars respecting the Ortiz project to call in the National Treasury Bills. The measure, we think, will not be passed, since Argentines are so sensitive of their credit and their honor that any bill likely to affect either will, we are confident meet with an overwhelming opposition.

In Exchange there is nothing to report. The Provincial Bank completely rules the market and has fixed rates, which also controls the gold market.

The following are the closing rates—

On London, 49⅝-¾.
" Paris, 5.22.
" Antwerp, 5,23-24.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

Many form a criterion of the resources and standing of a country by a glance at its public debt, and there is no doubt that the most prosperous countries have the largest indebtedness. Very few know accurately the state of the public debt of the Argentine Republic, and many have hazy notions that the country is sinking deeper into debt every day with new railways, new telegraph lines and innumerable new schemes. Such is, nevertheless, not the case, although none can deny that the burden on the shoulders of the National Government has certainly increased to an alarming extent by the transfer of the debts of the Province of Buenos Aires and by the issue of the $fts. 12,000,000 loan. But the actual indebtedness of the republic is less to-day than a few years ago, and there is no country in the world, perhaps, paying off its obligations in a steadier and quicker ratio. The figures of the public debt give all a melancholy conviction of what might have been done with all the loans, if these funds had not gone to pay a Paraguayan war, half-a-dozen Entre-Rios rebellions, and two Buenos Aires revolutions. Twenty seven millions of dollars have been spent in this manner since 1866, and the only consolation we can derive from the melancholy fact is that the money was spent in the country and distributed amongst National Guards. The Argentine Republic has raised the following loans which we give in dollars for the sake of uniformity:—

	$fts.
1824 loan	12,888,080
1868 do	12,200,000
1871 do	29,877,312
16 Nov. 1863 bonds	22,738,354
Bonds at 2½ p. cent	2,823,529
Deuda Estrangera	1,190,826
Roads and Bridges	1,500,000
5 Nov. 1872 law	1,420,000
21 Oct. 1876 law	500,000
Provincial Bonds	960,000
Treasury Bills	6,000,000
Total	92,098,101

The above figures are up to the 31st Dec. 1880, and if we add the late loan we have a grand total of $f. 104,098,101, constituting the home and foreign debt of the Republic. The interests and amortizations paid off on this amount are simply dazzling, and the amounts still in circulation are an eloquent warning to the Government. The interests and amortizations paid on these loans are altogether too high, and in future the Government should stipulate more equitable terms; this remark more especially refers to the Treasury Bills, but although we may object to a repetition of such cases, the Government must standby the contract to the last, as it is the work of its own hands.

	Interests paid	Amortized
1824 loan	$8,162,966	$7,192,632
1868 do	7,824,237	5,351,896
1871 do	15,738,700	9,379,848
1863 law	16,225,588	7,748,342.23
Bonds 2½ o/o.	2,795,404	2,375,528.90
Deuda Estrangera	1,204,319	478,392.30
Roads and Bridges	889,602	384,000
Nov. 1872 law	76,083	141,381.75
Oct. 1876 law	62,846.50	20,100
Prov. Bonds	786,600	561,600
Treasury Bills	1,004,977	384,440
	54,771,322.50	$4,018,121.18

Summing up these two totals we see that on a debt of $92,098,101 obligations have been met to the extent of $88,789,443.68. Nothing more eloquent than the preceding figure. Deducting the amortizations paid from the total debt we have—

Total debt	$92,098,101.00
Amortized	34,018,121.18
Balance	58 079,979.82

There are over 68 millions of dollars of public debt still circulating, after a country has paid $88,789,000 in obligations out of an indebtedness of $92,098,101; we think that the only country that beats the Argentine Republic in this financial policy is the Empire of China and the island of the Mikado.

But the preceding figures are apt to lead one astray, as some might think that the debt of the Government is only the 'bagatelle' of 58 millions of dollars. The following figures, up to Dec. 1880 will be found interesting, as representing to a dollar what the Government owed on the last day of 1880—

Foreign Debt	$33,041,016
Home Debt	24,038,963
Bank credits	15,413,606
'Letras' bills	3,728,572
Floating debt	7,306,650
	$83,528,807

Add to the above amount the late $12,000,000 loan, and we have a total of $95,528,807, which is pretty much the same amount of indebtedness as in former years. None will deny that the late loan was issued to meet the floating debt and the 'letras' falling due in the course of the year, as well as for the extension of the Andine and Central Northern railways. Had not the rebellion of June interfered with the revenue and expenses of the Treasury, there are all probabilities that the loan would not have been made at the time. But if the public debt of the country has not increased much, what can we say of the new and manifold obligations of the Government?

Hereon we have studied Mr. Cortinez's Memoria, waded through its mazes of figures, and nothing whatever is said. It must be inferred from the fact that the bases of the capitalization of Buenos Ayres were signed in 1881 and not in the last fortnight of 1880. But the public more or less know that the principle article is the transfer of the foreign debt of the province, which is an important matter and must affect the Treasury, although none can doubt that the city of Buenos Ayres pays amply for the obligations of same. The foreign debt of the Province in 1880 amounted to $13,790,624.24; this considerably increases the indebtedness of the National Government. Furthermore we must consider the Municipal Bonds, amounting to $57,964,000 paper currency, or $1.2,272,700; the following figures will explain better:—

Total debt 1880	$83,528,807
Loan 1881	12,000,000
B. Ayres foreign debt	13,790,624
Municipal Bonds	2,272,700
	$111,592,131

In round figures, the National Government must meet the obligations on $111,500,000 this year.

The National Government has before it a heavy task, and now more than ever we need economy and perfect organization in the Government. The National Government has immense resources: the public lands alone are a mine of wealth. Calculating the population of the Argentine Republic to be 2,500,000, which figure is certainly under the mark we see that the indebtedness is $44.60 per head, a very low ratio when compared with that of the Australasian colonies. In New Zealand, for example, the ratio is about £40 per head of the population. Furthermore, as we have stated before, the debt of the country has not increased: the obligations of the Government have naturally assumed larger proportions since Buenos Ayres was declared capital, and it is in view of that circumstance that we need in the Government House as much economy, as much organization, as in the years of the crisis we have lately emerged from. Let these considerations be well weighed when the Congressmen discuss the budget for 1882.

LATEST FROM RIO CUARTO.

(From our own Correspondent.)

'You should go to Mendoza, if you want to see agriculture,' said one who knows this country well, to me. 'This is cattle camp' (pais de vacas.) And so it is: these plains of Rio Cuarto are but in an early stage of geological development. Mendoza, irrigated in every part by 'acequias,' as wide and deep as small rivers, is rich in agricultural produce; but the soil of Mendoza is not better than the soil of Rio Cuarto—it is fertilised by the decomposition of vegetation worked into the soil and made one with it by the water. The Cordillera is the great friend of the Mendocinos, catching the rain-clouds and filling their 'acequias.' Without labour and forethought Mendoza would be a desert: without labour and forethought, Rio Cuarto is 'un pais de vacas.'

The processes of Nature are slow, but when man assists Nature the result comes much more quickly. Nature intends the soil of Rio Cuarto to be as rich as that of B. Aires, but she is in no hurry with her work, and, so far, she has been hindered by the intervention of man. Had she been left to herself, she would have covered these plains with trees, whose leaves and dead branches sinking in the sandy soil, would in a century or two have converted it into a rich loam. Man cuts down what trees there are for his own use, covers the plains with cattle which browse on the young shoots, so preventing the spread of the natural forest; and, worse than all, burns off the redundant grass, destroying seeds, vegetable refuse and everything which would in process of time have added to the richness and fertility of the soil This periodical burning of the camps in the dry winter season is becoming a question of vital importance in this part of the province of Cordova. The same means which are adopted in Buenos Aires and the Banda Oriental for the extinction of the 'paja,' which is useless as pasture, is adopted by the ignorant Cordovese squatter to clean the camp, as he calls it. He has few cows—his wealth consists in a small flock of long-legged sheep; so that these sheep become fat in the spring-time and give a good crop of wool, he provides them an abundant crop of young shoots to do this he destroys the pasture of five times their number of cows, proportionately decreasing the wealth of the province.

In the 'good old days' when Sobremonte was Viceroy of Buenos Aires Cordova was his favoarite city, and Rio Cuarto was the richest department of the province of Cordova. An immense number of mules were bred here in those days, which found ready sale in the silver districts of Peru, and cattle flourished and grew fat on the abundant sunburned pasture, for Sobremonte would allow no burning of pasture; 500 lashes was the punishment awarded to the ignorant or mischievous Cordovese who set fire to camp, and inexorably inflicted. There is a law here now which punishes this crime with four years' service in the ranks, a punishment far too severe for the offence, and never inflicted. In consequence of which the law in this respect is a bye-word, and each man does as seems best to his ignorance.

Travelling over these plains for weeks, during the recent survey of the Tambito Estate, I had abundant evidence of the damage inflicted by these devastating fires. Where the camp was unburned, the natural pasture was everywhere thickly intermingled with gramilla and other soft grasses, waiting only the showers and suns of spring-time to cover the plains with luxuriant verdure. Where fire had passed there was either black desolation or the green sprouts of the strong natural grasses springing up alone; the gramilla was destroyed and must await another seeding time ere it can again make its appearance. On these green sprouts horses and other sheep browse greedily, seriously checking the growth of the plant, to its ultimate and inevitable destruction, unless this ruinous custom be put a stop to.

The establishment of large cattle estancias, surrounded by wire fences, will do much to mitigate this evil, but it will not be extinguished without the interference of the strong hand of the law. A smaller penalty, inexorably inflicted, would soon put a stop to these periodical 'quemazones,'

Fortunately for the district of Rio Cuarto, the interests of some of the leading men of the Republic are bound up in the solution of this question. The Roca family possess large tracts of lond in this neighbourhood, which they are gradually forming into estancias. Ex-President Avellaneda is also a landed proprietor, and is commencing to stock an estaneia, a few leagues to the south from this, with 20,000 head of cattle. Roca, Avellaneda, Olmos, Garmendia and most of the rest of our great land-owners, are all fully impressed with the importance of feucing. The Andine Railway cannot supply the trucks necessary to carry the thousands of posts which are coming down from San Luis. They will, as their camps become stocked, be equally impressed with the importance of putting down these 'quemazones;' then Rio Cuarto will flourish, and again be, as in old times, the richest cattle grazing district in the Argentine Republic.

The Andine Railway has the blame of a good many accidental fires along their line. That Government is liable for the damage so done, has been established by the law courts of Cordoba, in a recent action brought by Dr. Posse of that city against the Tucuman Railway. A large estancia of his was devastated by a fire which originated in some sparks from an engine falling upon dry pasture. I am not aware of the exact amount recovered, but it was a large one.

The engines on all our railway lines burn wood. On the Central they use the wide-topped American funnel, which prevents all danger. The engineers of the Andine line object to this remedy as it deadens the draught. Why do they not then adopt the plan of the Central Uruguay Railway, whose engines burn coal in the dry season. Some change they must make, or they will, before long, lose more in an action for damages than would place some shiploads of coal at their station at Villa Maria.

Braga, the first station on the extension, was opened for traffic on the 5th,

COLON THEATRE.

On more than one occasion I have had the pleasure of expatiating on the merits of Mr. Grau's company in general, and especially on the artistic merits of Paola Marie and Mdlle. Leroux. My prognostications about their becoming great favourites with the public are coming true. Lately I had the opportunity of becoming personally acquainted with Mdlle. Leroux; her amiable disposition and remarkably attractive physique cannot fail to ensure her a host of admirers wherever she may perform. As I stated before, this lady much resembles in person La Grisi, of immortal renown; her disposition convinces you at once that it would be a treat to see her in Norma, in which part her stately figure would come out in conspicuous relief.

Paola Marie has been so beautifully photographed by many papers that my feeble pen cannot do justice to this eminent artiste, who not only shows us that her parts are carefully studied, but it is easy to discover the born artiste in the way the smallest and most insignificant detail is not overlooked.

The tenor has recovered from his severe cold, and his voice is clear, metallic and musical.

The baritone is likewise excellent. The acting of M. Meziere, who took the difficult part of Pontsablé in La Fille du Tambour Major, was really splendid, and elicited the universal applause of a crowded house.

All the costumes and mise-en-scene of every opera which has been given are new, fresh and brilliant in the extreme; therefore not a fault can be found in the 'tout ensemble,' and were it not for the inexhaustible attractions of the Italian Dramatic Company, Mr. Grau might be taxed to find seats for those who would flock to Colon. Paola Marie is quite at home in every piece; as Carmencita she made a splendid Andalusa, and looked as if she really felt inclined to have a good dance on the table. When I see her in La Grande Duchesse I shall be better able to judge whether she can replace satisfactorily Schneider or not; if she be competent to do so, her fortune is made.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The Royal Mail s.s. Tamar will sail to-morrow, mails will close at G. Post Office at 1 o'clock. Packet Edition this morning.

The terrific dash of rain and wind in the small hours yesterday morning made turfites turn in their beds with a groan for the Clerk of the Weather for having again spoiled the Lujan races. Just so. Races again postponed till Monday. The course is a small edition of the Lake of Glendalough.

The 'novedad' yesterday morning was the acquittal, by the Appeal Court, of Szemeredy for the murder of Carolina Metz, and his conviction of having stolen a gold watch from Commander Sherry (Jerez). For the latter offence the Court awarded him 2½ years imprisonment, but as he has been five years in prison already, he has paid a double debt to Justice. This upshot of this famous case has surprised the public, whose previous opinion of it, however, changed considerably with the defence made by the accused and the particulars published about Casteguet, the man who was arrested on suspicion at the time of the murder, but subsequently liberated.

The Nacional's telegrams last night says that there are two conspiracies on foot in this city to 'regenerate' Banda Oriental, one in the interest of Latorre; both aim at 'making short work' of poor Santos, who seems to have no friends. Hard for him; he stops newspapers in the Post Office, and opens letters. Byron's irreverent ejaculation 'God help us all—God help me too!' might be quoted effectively just now by General Santos.

The Montevidean telegrams report a long Cabinet Council held on Monday by President Vidal and his Ministers, and great anxiety to known what it was all about.

Telegrams from Rio say that Her Majesty, the Empress of Brazil has been very ill, but was improving at last advices. Her Majesty is very popular, and the people evinced unmistakable sorrow at her illness.

The return match between the officers of H.M.S. Dwarf and Garnet and B.A.C.C., played at Palermo on Monday last, resulted, after a very exciting match, in favour of the home team by one run. Mr D. Mackinley scored 35 for the B.A.C.C. and Mr Plumer 18 for the navy. Owing to the recent rain, the ground was very dead and run-getting rather difficult. We hold full particulars but, owing to press of copy, are not able to publish them to-day.

We extract from the Foreign Office 'Statement of Services,' the following list of those of the late Captain Mallet, H.M. Consul here:—"Hugh Mallet was appointed a Cornet in the 4th Light Dragoons, May 19, 1846; was promoted to be Lieutenant, August 28, 1849. Exchanged into the 9th Lancers, February 7, 1851, and sold out, July 17, 1851. Was appointed a Cornet in the North Devon Regiment of Yeomanry Cavalry, December 12, 1851; and was promoted to be Lieutenant, January 5, 1859. Was Gentleman-at-Large of the Vice-Regal Household, from March 1855 till March 1858; was appointed Superintendent of Passports in the Foreign Office, August 1, 1858; and Secretary and Registrar to the Mixed Commission Courts established at the Cape of Good Hope under the Treaties concluded by Great Britain, on the 3rd of July, 1842, and 7th of April 1862, with Portugal and the United States respectively, for the suppression of the Slave Trade, February 23, 1865. Received a Compensation Allowance, November 21, 1870. Was appointed Consul at Carthagena, Colombia, November 14, 1871; and Consul for the States of Panama, November 17, 1874, and from there to B. Ayres, January, 1880."

'No news is good news'. Everybody quotes this fine old proverb in reference to the many days that have elapsed without any telegrams in reference to President Garfield's condition. It is time for another telegram, Mr Havas.

The odour of burned Bull which pervaded the National Bank share market on Monday was changed yesterday for a smell of roast Bear, owing to 'the tired horse' making another spurt. The fluctuations in these shares will make every man on the Bolsa as grey as a badger or as bald as a billiard ball before they are over. Sitting Bull himself could not 'stand' it, and keep his scalp covered.

Clerical puns have always a mild pungency about them. We cut the following from a Liverpool exchange:—"A 'bon mot' has reached us which it would be a pity to withhold. The other day a Bishop, when travelling in a London 'buss, met one of his clergy. 'My Lord', said the latter, 'I have seen many a bishop 'in partibus', but never till to-day a bishop 'in omnibus.'"

At a Cabinet Council on Monday the Minister of Public Instruction was authorized to send to Congress a Bill for creating a National Museum in this city. Mr Moreno, the famous explorer, will be named Director of the Museum, which will be the third in this city—the Provincial, the National, and the Standard. The Bill was sent to Congress yesterday.

A colleague says that the large pumping machinery of the Water Works will be set going in a few days. It also expresses a belief that the pipes will be all burst into smithereens under the extra pressure, a possibility which should be looked to by the Board before the big pumps are set going.

A lady whose bonnet was blown off at the Retiro station on Monday started pluckily in chase of it. The edifice of silk, flowers and feathers went booming along before the gale and finally came to a halt on a truck attached to a goods train. The fair owner put one of her fairy feet on the wheel of the truck, to reach the hat, but, just as she did so, the train moved a little and down she came, with the bonnet, under the wheels. Several porters sprang forward and pulled her out before much harm was done, but she was somewhat hurt in one arm. The 'dearest duck' of a bonnet in town is not worth such a terrible risk.

The smallest steam engine in the world has been constructed by an American watchmaker Mr. Buck. The engine with its boiler, its feed pump its speed regulator etc. occupies a space less than 3 square centimetres; the height exclusive of the base is only 16 millimetres. An ordinary ladies thimble easily covers the whole. There are 140 distinct pieces connected by 102 screws. The boiler filled with 3 drops of water. Length of stroke 2' 3mm and its diameter less than 1½ mm. The total weight is only one gramme. The steam engine works perfectly.

The Cordoba papers are in the highest spirits at the 'Kaolin' (porcelain clay) that has been discovered up there, and hope to beat Sevres out of the field soon. Of course.

The Prensa of Belgrano calls on Mr Crabtree to put on an 11 p.m. train from town during the summer months, and promises him lots of passengers. Wait till summer comes colleague.

The War Minister has issued a very proper circular to the officers of the army, warning them to give politics a wide berth, or the consequences to offenders will be serious. Minister Victorica is to be congratulated on this step. Soldiers should have no politics, and in well regulated countries dont care a button about them.

The Progreso Club will give a grand ball on the 1st October. This is good news for the 'modistes.'

Messrs Fernandez have opened an Artesian well at South Barracas and intend to erect a splendid public bath-house there. The water spouts four metres over the ground. When are the people at this side of the city to have a decent public plunge bath? It would pay splendidly if mounted on a proper scale.

Splendid chance. A Plaza Once 'wine maker,' who is about to retire from business, offers to sell his secrets for making bogus tipple; he refers to a Bolsa broker and several importing houses and eminent grocers for whom he has made wine for years. Name! Name! It's enough to give one a horror of wine for ever and a day.

The Paraguayan Congress has decided on starting a navy. The first ship is to be a gunboat. It is hard to say how this solitary representative of a Paraguayan navy is to be paid for while the Asuncion Custom House only yields 200,000 pats per month.

The new regulations of the Port Captain in reference to the 'changadores' on the passenger mole have proved an immense relief to travellers. The ravening hordes that used to fall remorelessly on the travelling public on their embarking or landing, to secure the porterage of their luggage, are now reduced to some order and subjection, and we thank Mr Mansilla, in the name of the long-suffering public, for the great improvement he has effected.

The river in the neighbourhood of San Nicolas is getting famous for collisions. The other day the Pingo and the Proveedor ran into each other, and on Monday night the steamer Litoral ran into a schooner, but neither was much damaged.

The latest West-Coast telegrams say that Pierola's guerillas are of such a Falstaffian type that he is coming round to the idea of accepting Chile's terms. The very best thing he could do.

Some of the 'free and enlightened' of Dolores held a meeting there on Monday to petition the Provincial Government for two trifles light as air: first, to expropriate the Southern Railway, and next, to declare Dolores the new capital of the province. Anything else? Better ask enough when you are about it, gentlemen.

Mr. Kidd has issued an extra edition of his invaluable monthly Guia, with all the new time-tables of the railways, etc. etc. No one can get comfortably through the day without a copy of Kidd in his pocket.

The Victoria Theatre will open on the 20th September with a Marionette Company, 'Avis aux enfants.'

The photographers of the city are in a flutter to secure the exclusive privilege of taking photographs of the Continental Exhibition, inside and outside. It will go to the highest bidder, but this is by no means the way to secure the best photograph. A poor photographer may be a far better artist than a rich one.

A 'Ferret' case on a small scale occurred at Tuyu last month when some audacious scamp made off with a lighter called H. Paulina, and she has not since been heard of.

The Chascomus Fair Committee have purchased in fee six manzanas as a locale for future Fairs. In spite of the rain last week the Fair was crowded.

The 9th of October is the day named for taking the Census of this province. The most frightfully, quite too dreadfully awful, legal penalties are provided for unmarried ladies who refuse to tell their real age, be it 20 or 40. We protest against any spinster being imprisonment on bread and water for keeping the only secret ladies were ever known to keep—their age.

Our Italian friends' attention is now divided between getting off the 'tired horse' (National Bank shares) before he falls and breaks their necks, and getting up their grand National fete for the 20th inst. It is said that these fetes will be the grandest the Italians have ever attempted here.

Patacons	25.60
Cedulas A	99½
National Bank Shares	125½
Old Gas Co. Shares	2000

The Italians completely won the day in the share market, and people who had ready money yesterday in both hands and did not purchase at 117 had full occasion to-day to see their error. Some very strong new buyers appeared at the ring this morning, however, spite of everything the weight of the shares is felt, and may prove for many greater than they can bear.

Gold rules very stiff; people remark that although the Bank received last month £100,000 stg. still the stock of gold on hand is small. Gold opened at 25.55 and closed at 25.60, and sales for end of month and Dec. ruled at same rate. 327,350 pats sold.

Cedulas not so firm as yesterday; prices cash at 99¼, for end of month one sale at 99½, and for October at 99⅜. If the Minister's measure is passed this stock at these prices must be good buying.

Nat. Bank shares opened with a roar at 124½ cash, and closed cash 125½, sales 951 shares. For end of month sales 6322, opening at 123½, runing up to 127, and closing at 126½, and for Oct. 650 shares sold, opening as 127, and closing at 128.

Old Gas shares somewhat firmer, 15 sold at 2000 m/c. We enquired to-day at the Municipality, respecting the rumoured new tax, and found that there is not a particle of foundation in the rumour; the matter has not even be mooted, and if proposed would be at once rejected.

There was a better feeling on 'Change to-day about the Chilian question and less apprehension as to results: evidently some parties well informed are aware that the reports circulated for the last few days are pure 'bolas' of the speculators.

The sales at the ring were—
For cash 67,350 25.55-60
For Sept. 15th 10,000 25.60
For Sept. 30th 130,000 25.50
For Oct. 31st 120,000 25.60
Sales, 327,350.
Cedulas—
For cash A 26,800 99½
For Sept. 14th A 8,000 99½
For Sept. 30th A 105,000 99½-¼
For Oct. 31st A 10,000 99⅝
Sales, 149,800.
Nat. Bank Shares—
For cash 951 shares 124½-125-¼
For Sept. 30th 6,322 shares 123½-125-126-127 to 126½
For Oct. 31st 650 shares 127-½-128
Sales, 7,923.
Old Gas Co. Shares—
For cash 15 shares at $2,000

A splendid mansion No. 122 Calle Arenales sold by Sr Don Martin Ximenez to Sr Don Jose E. Uriburu for $525,000 m/c. Brokers Bensusan & Freyer 124 Calle Piedad.

At afterhours the azzione market ruled most excited. A new broker with at least ten millions fresh money bought freely, yet the weight and the current seemed too strong for him; spite of everything prices drooped, and sale after sale told how the whole Bolsa is now for a fall. The Italian Syndicate it seems is over, and new hands are now getting into the stock, but 'le operazione' is difficult, and although one of the strongest and most accredited brokers on Change to-day bought largely, at 5 o'clock prices were down to 125 for end of month, and 124½ for to morrow sellers. Some very wide-awake 'Italians' are watching keenly the market, they believe in a fresh drop before 3 days are about when prices will go under those of yesterday. At 5 o'clock things looked fishy for the bulls, and 'dopo l'ora officiale restano venditori contanti', and for 30th Settembre. Gold hard at 25.60 for Decembre buyers. Cedulas no speculation whatever, prices the same.

At the Municipality toeday eight members attended, but as eleven are needed for a quorum there was no session.

Exchange at to-day's gold rate and Provincial Bank figure gives 49.57. Commercial paper offering at 49⅝-¾.

Discounts at 8 o/o difficult, some banks ask 9 o/o. Gold is now far easier to borrow than paper.

Several contract sales of new wool reported at 72 and 70. We hear of one lot at Lezama and they say the price is 81. One of the best known wools in this country, and a very large lot, has been sold on contract in England, price reserved.

At Baltar & Quesada's crowds visited the magnificent English cow brought out for Mr Luro by Mr Getting. We admit she is the finest cow we ever saw in this country.

The Horrox is up to-day with 900 tons cargo. She has already engaged for Antwern and Liverpool—
1750 boxes meat
5500 bags maize
2500 salted hides
3000 dry hides
360 bales

Many parties are most anxious to see Mr Egerton's report on the Plate; it is published in blue book form by the foreign office.

The Pliny leaves in the morning for Rosario with 1200 tons cargo, the largest cargo we ever knew for that port.

The Euclid sailed to-day for Havre with
1000 bales
1500 bags minerals
100 logs wood, and fills in Brazil; she also took $f, 60,000 in silver. Mrs McDougal, Miss Buchanan, Mrs Martinez, Mr. McDougall, Mr J. McDougall, Mrs Jones, Mr P Talbot and others go in her.

A very notable increase is observed in the value of lands suitable for agriculture; chacras in Lobos have been sold at double the market rate of the neighbouring grazing lands.

The question was put on Change how long will it be before the exports of this country reach the value of one hundred millions pats. The question is certainly an interesting one, and we for our part, basing our judgment on the Customs returns for last ten years, think that perhaps in 1885 or 1886 our exports will reach that figure, as things grow very fast in the R. Plate when they grow at all. Our total exports for 1880 amounted to $f.56,497,423, which includes $f.5,642,297 free of duty; but the following figures, which we extract from the Libertad, bear on the question and are most important:—

Value of exports paying duty for the following years:—

1871	23,442,543 pats.
72	43,339,717
73	42,392,045
74	39,413,265
75	45,785,091
76	42,394,052
77	38,503,669
78	32,655,288
79	41,268,426
80	50,855,126

And the following show the values of our six principal articles of export last year—

Wool	26,681,564 pats.
Sheepskins	5,279,338
Dry hides	6,779,904
Salted hides	3,189,689
Jerked beef	2,978,267
Tallow and grease	1,752,393
	46,561,155 pats.

It was announced on Change that all difficulties about the Clarke Transandine Railway concession have been removed, which is indeed great news for this market, and we hope will prove correct.

Mr Chas J Daniell, of Santa Fe, was welcomed on Change; he leaves for Europe in Tamar and reports everything in Sta. Fe most thriving.

The following compares the monthly Custom House returns for the two years—

	1879	1880
January	857,627	754,123
February	985,000	772,936
March	820,655	843,959
April	866,003	999,098
May	1195,465	732,081
June	849,396	266,550
July	882,286	648,205
August	621,114	995,819
September	782,667	913,046
October	1015,261	1175,585
November	749,315	882,436
December	840,336	970,804

The following shows at a glance the Custom House revenues for the last 2 years. It will be remembered that the war in 1880 checked our Custom House for three months, say 1½ millions pats.—

The following late news about the Antwerp produce market, from Messrs Dunge & Co. of that city, under date Aug. 11th, 1881, is important:—

Wool—
The third series of our this year's public sales about the course of which we reported in our last issue closed on 30th July. The weak tendency which we then stated continued, and the two last sittings especially went off without any animation, several buyers having left, being fully supplied.

The established decline is the following as compared with our April auctions:—
5-10 centimes for B. Aires
10-15 do lambs and secondary do
15 do Montevideo.

The latter description has remained same as lambs, very neglected although the sales.

There have in all been

Offered.		Sold.
18,115 bales	Buenos Aires	12,375 bales.
4,032	Montevideo	1,987
49	Entre Rios	3
4,979	Australian	4,917
839	Miscellaneous	499
28,014 bales.		19,781 bales.

Since the close of the auctions the market has been very quiet and transactions are of little importance.

The following is now our statistical position:—

	Bales.
Stock on 14th July, 1881		40,755
Arrivals from Buenos Aires	8,926
" Montevideo	1,575
" Rivers	—	10,501
		51,256
Sales by private contract	2,173
Public sales	14,355
Transit	4,334	20,872
Stock to-day		30,384

Public sales in Havre opened on 9th inst.; prices are about maintained for good B. Aires as compared with May rates, secondary wools and Montevideos were, same as with us, neglected and fetched lower prices. Of 3,851 bales offered in two sittings only 1,531 could be sold; these sales will close to-day.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

Sept. 7th

The gold market ruled easier to-day than yesterday, and there was less of a flurry about the debate in Congress on the Chilian treaty. Gold rules cheaper for cash than on time, which means paper money is scarce, and we heard complaints from many parties to-day about the growing tightness of the money market. Gold opened cash at 25.60 and closed at same; 121,950 pats sold. For the end of the month 271,950 pats sold at 25.55. There seemed to be less disposition to secure gold on time to-day.

Cedulas, a very slow market; nothing doing; 1,200 sold cash at 99⅜ and buyers offering at this rate no sellers, and for Oct. 31st 20,000 old at 99⅝.

National Bank Shares, which ruled so weak yesterday, grew firm to-day and rose on yesterday's price. Still we pronounce the "horse to be tired", and all the Italians in the market spurring him on. It may be that the Italians will succeed in getting out of the stock without the bottom failing out of the share tub, but it looks difficult. We note that on the sidewalk and around the Bolsa gates the crowd of small Italian dabblers in the stock is increasing. We repeat our statement "Gli Italiani sono ora i padroni assoluti del mercato". There is far more Italian spoken on Change now than any other European tongue, save Spanish. We heard numbers talking of 'di denari', and the 'trovandosi' seems to be a hard business. The shares opened rather drooping at 128½ cash, but stiffened and closed at an advance of ½, at 128¾; cash sales 429 shares. For end of month 2,650 shares sold, opening at 128½, running up to 129½ and closing at 129½. For Friday 150 shares sold at 129, for Saturday 150 shares sold at 128¾, and for Oct. 31st 800 shares at 129¼, then 130 and closing at 129¼. For Dec. 31st 100 shares sold at 123, which marks 3 off yesterday's rate for same date.

National Bonds, 1876, 3,300 sold at 90.

Gas Shares sold yesterday at afterhours 95 shares at 2,000 each and 60 at 2,100, but the stock is offered to-day under those rates.

The Forfar, about which we all had so much concern, entered port to-day. She threw over board 100 tons coal to get off, and has now 1,543 tons, which were sold to arrive some time ago.

Mr Seeber's proposal to make a railway to Bahia Blanca may, now that the Southern Railway has taken the matter in hand, be changed to a line of railway from Bahia Blanca to Patagones, which is of all others the line most needed to connect us with the Rio Negro. The National Government would doubtless give Mr Seeber every assistance in the way of guarantee or capital, and although the camps between the Colorado and Rio Negro are almost without a single estancia or poblacion, still in a few years all these camps will be settled on, and the railway would more than anything else help to people and settle them.

Sept. 9th, 1881

The new black board put up on the Bolsa to-day was the theme of universal admiration. We, for our part, take exception to the rather increased space allowed for gold, and limited portion set apart for stocks and shares. The carpenter who made the board reminds one of the Athenian carpenter who was puzzled to make a bench or a god out of a block of wood sent him. Evidently the Argentine carpenter believes in a collapse in the Bank Share speculation, so small is the space assigned for that stock, whilst he has a superstitious fear that gold will be bought and sold more next year in this market than ever; he may, however, err, although carpenters they say never err, as they do everything by rule. Meanwhile the new black board is a speculative anomaly.

Gold opened at 25.55, and spite of some new story about the treaty and Congress prices dropped 5 cents, closing at 25.50. For Saturday 5,000 pats at 25.50, for the end of month 215,000 pats at 25.60, and on long dates 220,000 pats at 25.55-50. Upon the whole the gold market shows down, and the power of the Provincial Bank is evidently too strong for the speculators.

They said on 'Change to-day that to-morrow the Bank withdraws from the market several millions currency, amount received for bills and exchange drawn during the week. This is a very large sum to call up in a week, and it is really no wonder that money should be felt tight.

Cedulas showed a slight drop, 20,500 sold cash at 99¼, for end of month 30,000 at 99¼, and for October 30,000 at 99½-⅝.

As for National Bank Shares the market is completely in the hands of Italians. Inside and outside the Bolsa the Italians hold everything and rule the market, and if any one wants to know the real state of this market he must talk Italian. In azioni della Banca Nazionale si quotizzarono como segue—

Contanti [plain English, cash] 452 shares sold, opening at 129¼, jumping down to 128⅛, and closing up at 129.

Settembre 30—Sales 2,920 shares, beginning at 130, dropping gently like the dew of Heaven, and then closing up hard at 129⅞.

Ottobre 31—Sales 1,150 shares at 130 firm as a rock for that day, and some of the bulls say they will gallop the shares to 150 for that date yet.

We fear, however, the horse is getting tired. Even some of our Italian friends look frightened. 'Questa sfrenata speculazione borsatile' may carry friends and foes to a 'precipizio'.

Gas Shares look stronger; one sale, 90 shares, at 2,000 m/c.

Mr Charles Fry of Sauce Corto was welcomed on Change, he arrived up yesterday with Mr Goyo Soier, Mr Muggeridge and others; he says the camps down there are in the most splendid condition, and he has seen no camps in the journey that rival the Sauce Corto camps. As for lands offering for sale down there, he is at a loss to know whereabout they are, since all the lands near him are bought up and by parties who will not sell an acre.

Sept. 10th

The gold market, spite of all the rumours about the Chilian treaty, &c., rules weak. The bulls made a dash at the board to-day, marking down a sale of 1,000 pats deliverable to end of year at 25.80, but this is not the market rate. Every man at the ring would willingly sell at the same price. The cash sales amounted to 99,000 pats, opening at 25.55, and closing at 25.50. For the end of the month 315,000 pats were sold, and as the Government broker was seen buying prices took an upward turn, but an Italian gold broker sold in one lot 250,000 pats, which flattened everything. For long dates to end of year 271,000 pats sold at 25.60-55, closing sellers at latter rate. There is no life whatever in the gold market, and the Provincial Bank has firmly established 25.50 as the rate.

The Provincial Bank balance-sheet was out to-day and will be found at foot; the figures stagger the market, inasmuch as spite of all the paper money called in by the Bank, it seems they have less paper on hand now than the previous month, which is most extraordinary and calls for some explanation. It is said on Change that last year the Bank drew in close on 200 millions currency without the public knowing it, and that they can do the same now, but we opine it should figure in the balance-sheet.

The news about the treaty is that the Chilian Government has asked for the debate to be prorogued for 20 days. People are getting very fidgetty about this matter; the slightest hitch would at once affect the market, but people who ought to know how the question stands are fixed in their conviction that the treaty will stand and both countries will approve of it.

In Cedulas the day was nearly over before business in this stock began, and then very little done. 44,000 sold cash at 99¼, and for end of month 15,000 at 99½; buyers were offering for cash, but no more sellers at present rates. Respecting the mooted operation of 5,000 pats offered for right to deliver 100,000 Cedulas at par up to end of year there seems to be no truth whatever in it, as many parties offered to-day to accept the money and sign the contract, but no one could be found willing to pay the cash. Evidently the business was reported with a view to put down the stock, and counteract the effect of the Maskelyne taking another shipment of Treasury Bills and Cedulas to London.

Many parties ask what has become of Minister Uriburu's project respecting the Mortgage Bank. We certainly understood that this week it was to be presented, but suppose that no further time will be lost and that next week the Minister will send it to the Chambers.

National Bank Shares, as we hinted in our last, look like a tired horse. The Italians still rule the market, and hold everything. "Le azioni della Banca Nazionale continuano ad assorbire tutta l'attenzione degli speculatori Italiani". Around the ring to-day, that is to say outside the outer rail, we saw new faces and new friends from Genoa and Naples; but the market presents a weak appearance, and we hardly think that even the Italians will be able to hold it up. Fully 50,000 shares are now on the market, and to carry these at the moment is a harder job than to jabber Italian or smoke those long detestable Genoese cigars which we regret to see so much used now on Change. Shares opened cash—contanti—at 127½, and rushed up to 128 to drop to 126½, at which they shut with a groan for cash. For Settembre 30 sales reached 4,250 shares, opening at 128½, closing at 127½. For Ottobre only 100 shares sold at 128. For Dicembre another small venture, 100 shares, at 126. "Quasi tutti le partite che si mettono in vendita sono comperate da Italiani." En fin, if the Italians get out of the shares at their present prices they will make millions and establish a reputation as speculators that not even Paris or London Stock Exchange can rival.

Sept. 12th

The week has opened with a tumble in the National Bank Shares, and a stand-from-under feeling at the ring. The Italians as a rule are not selling, yet the strong men stand back to see where the fall will go to; some think the shares will before many days are about reach par, whilst others believe that there are too many waiting for a chance to enter the market to allow of prices dropping so heavily. The probabilities are that, if no panic occurs in the market, the shares will drop 5 or 6 o/o, and will then be caught up and a corner made the same as last month for the bears. However the position of the market is too critical to offer any opinion, people who buy the shares cash and pay for them have the best chance in the present state of the market.

Gold rules firm, but stagnant; no life whatever in the market; cash sales 88,800 pats, opening at 25.55, dropping to 25.50, and closing at opening rate, 25.55. For Saturday one sale at 25.55, and for end of month 55,000 pats, opening at 25.55 and closing at 25.60. On long dates 130,000 pats sold, opening at 25.55, closing at 25.60. Total sales, $f.283,500.

Cedulas present no change, the market today ruled very firm for cash 15,800 at 99½, and for October 40,000 at 99⅞.

Treasury Bills, one sale, 3,100 at 118.

National Bank Shares rule everything, and there was a tremendous business done before the bell rang; our words as to sales reaching 10,000 shares came true to the letter, to-day the sales for the end of the month alone almost amounted to 10,000 shares. The extraordinary market feature is that the market is falling, and the Italians are not selling. They said on Change that there is a split in the Italian Syndicate, and some want to realise while others hold out, but the market is now too weak to realise any large amount of stock. The fall in prices within the last few days is from 130 to 117, which is very severe, and possibly those who initiated the fall did not anticipate such very sudden results. For cash 393 shares sold at 117. For end of month 9,610 shares sold, opening at 122 and closing at 117. For October 31st 200 shares at 117. Total sales, 10,203 shares.

The Savoie and Pliny both entered port yesterday and both bring fresh dates and splendid cargoes. We publish in another column fresh news via Gibraltar.

The Villarino arrived on Saturday; she brings rather important advices. Governor Alvaro Barros's explorations in the new port San Antonio have proved unfavorable, no good water to be found, and it seems now that the only good port with good sweet water is San Blas, which will probably be buoyed, and both National and Provincial Governments join in the expense of running a tramway from San Blas to Patagones, a distance of only 16 leagues.

Notwithstanding the project of Messrs Galabert & Le Febre to place all deposits of a National or judicial character in the National Bank and its branches, the shares received no 'impetus' from so very important a measure. It is presumed there are 50,000 shares now floating in the market, which at present prices represents a very great capital.

The str. Hamburg for Santos and Hamburg cleared on Saturday, she took some passengers and 300 bales and 1,100 packages tobacco. We hear that this line will have two steamers a month henceforward beginning next month, and this flourishing line is now putting on 3 new steamers—

The Rosario
The Corrientes
The Petropolis

This line will now have four steamers a month from Brazil and two a month from the River Plate.

On Saturday night Mr Fry, of Sauce Corto, had a long interview with President Roca at his private residence. The President took great interest in all that Mr Fry had to tell him about the far South and promised that the Government would do everything to protect the estancieros down there. Dr Conyngham was also presented to H.E.

At afterhours there was reaction in the Nat. Bank Share market, and the bulls chased the bears round the room; finally some parties who sold in the morning bought back, and this caused a stir; prices stepped up from 117 to 119, then weakened, and after a few sales stiffened again, closing at 121 buyers for end of month, at 120 buyers for October, and for cash all the small lots offered picked up by an Argentine broker who last year visited the crater of Vesuvius; price cash 119. Gold firm; also Cedulas firm, buyers on time offering 99¼, nothing sold.

CIRCULAR

A los senores propietarios y especuladores en la venta de bienes raices.

Continuamente sucede que las ventas de bienes raices en remate no se realizan unas veces a consecuencia de no haber pasado el limite puesto a la propiedad por el vendedor y aceptado por el rematador, otras por ser exajerada la cantidad fijada como base para la venta, y en fin, muchas por no tener los compradores bastante confianza en la legalidad con que se efectua la venta.

Para evitar todos estos inconvenientes y a nuestros comientes gastos sin resultado, hemos creido en entrar un procedimiento que los salva, y que hasta ahora no tenemos noticia que se haya empleado en esta clase de negocio, el cual empezaremos a poner en practica desde el domingo 18 del corriente en el que venderemos el lindisimo terreno en Flores perteneciente a la testamentaria del Doctor Don Aurelio Prado y Rojas, (veanse la seccion de remates) y que es al siguiente:

"A toda propiedad que por nuestra intervencion se venda en remate, se le asignar un limite o base de venta que sera publicado, a fin de que los senores compradores lo conozcan, y si en el acto del remate los ofertas no alcanzacen a dicha base o limite, la base se hara condicionalmente, es decir, con sujecion a la aprobacion del vendedor, cuyas pretenciones en la mayoria de los casos pueden modificarse en vista de la mas alta oferta obtenida, y confirmar la venta sin nuevos gastos ni".

Procediendo de esta manera, conseguiremos tres resultados.

1° No suspender nunca el remate, por no haber quien ofrezca la cantidad fijada como base, que tal vez fue exagerada.

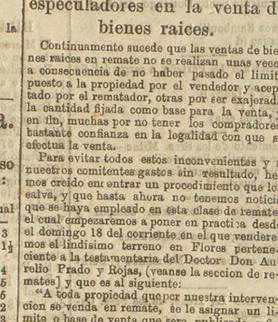

2° Llevar el convencimiento a las personas que no conozcan de la legalidad con que vendemos y

3° Salvar nuestra responsabilidad, en el caso desgraciado de una venta ruinosa.

Espuesto la manera como de hoy en adelante venderemos los bienes raices, solo nos resta hacer saber a las personas que nos favorezcan con sus ordenes, que en los casos en que no se realice la venta, no pagaran ninguna clase de comision, y que los gastos de aviso serán los que cobren las imprentas por la insercion de ellos, a cuyo efecto se les entregaran los recibos que hayan dado y que facilmente podran comprobar si lo creen oportuno.

En Santiago del Estero

Orden del Exmo Gobierno de esa Provincia

Con derecho a ubicar donde se quiera

Venta a Plazos

En nuestra casa San Martin No 51

El Martes 20 de September

A las 2 en punto de la tarde

Venderemos al mejor precio y a plazos, por orden del Exmo. Gobierno de la Provincia de Santiago del Estero y con acuerdo de su Legislatura.

Cien leguas de campo, divididas en lotes de a cuatro, teniendo sin embargo el comprador derecho a tomar desde una hasta las cien.

El Gobierno de Santiago ha sido, como lo decimos, autorizado por su Legislatura a vender esta gran zona de tierra, pero a objeto de facilitar la operacion, la venta se hara sin otro plano que el de la Provincia, por cuanto se da el derecho de ubicar donde se quiera, dentro de los limites de la misma.

Con este derecho cualquiera persona que este en el secreto de la situacion de un campo inmediato a la plaza principal, a las quintas contiguas a la ciudad o por sus alrededores, puede pedir su ubicacion alli mismo, como tambien los que conozcan donde existen los que puedan tener pastos de primera calidad aguas permanentes, montes, etc.

El Gobierno de Santiago no pretende con esta operacion hacer un negocio.—Su objeto se imita a fomentar el progreso de su Provincia, poniendo la tierra al alcance de todo el mundo, llamando asi a su centro la formacion de grandes establecimientos y la poblacion consiguiente.

A cada comprador se le dara un boleto con un numero de orden y en el cual se fijara un termino para pedir la ubicacion,de manera que el primera que compre, sea el primero que elija y así sucesivamente.

Siendo la venta dentro del territorio de Santiago, ningun otro gobierno iniciara protesta alguna, lo que importara garantizar un titulo perfecto y libre de todo gravamen, habiendose resuelto que las escrituras se otorguen ante de oficina de un escribano de esta capital.

El pago se hara mitad al contado al estenderse la escritura y el resto a 6 y 12 meses en garantia del mismo campo.

En resumen—Jamas se ha puesto en venta un lote de tierra en iguales condiciones y desde hoy el publico debe preocuparse de averiguar en que punto pedir la ubicacion del numero de leguas que necesita para la plantacion de establecimientos de campo, ingenios etc.

No obstante de tener, aqui en Buenos Aires un apoderado general el Gobierno de Santiago nosotros daremos mas pormenores en nuestra casa San Martin 51.
